★★★★☆ Not Medline Bottles as Advertised.

Reviewed in the United States on July 3, 2017

I've ordered these twice. First time (6 or so months ago) they were true Medline bottles. Lots of great reviews. Loved them. Didn't leak (kept one in my purse and never had a problem), and sprayed nicely. Ordered them the second time (month ago), and they were NOT Medline, I was sent an off brand, and they leaked. The bottles were also thinner and taller and no longer able to fit in a special pocket in my purse. Sent them back. I would love to reorder Medline bottles, but unless the supplier can guarantee I will get Medline again, I will not order. Will find another supplier.

About the productCompare with similar productsReviews and Q&ABack to top

I had bought these bottles before and they worked fantastically. I needed some new ones, so I thought I would order the same ones. I just tried them today and they are NOT the same product!! BEWARE!! The ones I received did not have the "Medline" brand on the bottle as my first order did. (And as the product picture shows). These generic bottles leak a lot when you squeeze the bottle. Water gets everywhere and not ideal for any cleansing needs. Very disappointed. :(

★★★★★ Great concept!

Reviewed in the United States on May 29, 2016

I bought these bc when I was in the hospital after baby deliveries they would have you use these to clean yourself. I thought gosh I wished I had this when I was a teenager with periods. Nobody ever suggests this for an idea to keep clean all day long when you're a teenager. I had a hysterectomy in my late 30's so I don't need them, but I got them for my teen daughters bc it's a great idea for good hygiene during that time of the month. Somebody should be marketing these for just that. Just fill with warm water and you can be refreshed without taking a shower every time you go to the bathroom. What a concept! Then you'll need travel size too, in a discreet travel case that can hold tampons or pads also. The ideas can keep flowing. :)

I've never had kids, so I never knew about these Irrigation bottles until a friend told me about them in passing. I have since carried one with me in my purse and there's one in each of my bathrooms. Love these things and how fresh you feel afterwards. Especially when you are out and out about and it's hot. Whooh! I'm upgrading to a bidet in my upstairs bathroom but I will still carry one of these in my purse! They are sturdy bottles and have not leaked (pun not intended) in my purse.

First time I ordered these bottles I was very pleased, The bottle was easy to squeeze and performed just like the one from the hospital, however. The second order I made the bottles were not the same. They were much stiffer and hard and much more difficult to squeeze. Totally different from the first order.

The plastic bag arrived open, inside there was 1 normal bottle and 1 with no cap (obviously, unusable). It was supposed to have 3 bottles!

I requested a replacement. Will update the review when it arrives.

★★★★★ Excellent! Does the job!

Reviewed in the United States on March 6, 2020

I have horrible radiation burns in my perineal area and it's excruciating to urinate. I fill up one of these bottles with warm water and use it while I urinate to dilute the sting from the urine. I swear, it is saving my life! These bottles are soft and flexible and hold just the right amount of water to get the job done. The spray tip has a cross top so the flow comes out gently. One of the nurses at the Cancer center told me about it and I swear, it has saved my day. Excellent product, you get 3 in the set.

These are exactly the same ones the hospital gives you for postpartum recovery. They work great and are significantly cheaper than the Mom Frida alternative that many of my friends recommended to me. The multi pack is fantastic cause I could leave one in each washroom so I didn't have to run in a panic to the 2nd floor for my bottle. I also kept one in my purse which was super handy. Would highly recommend as a way of making your postpartum recovery just a little less miserable.

Regretted at first for not buying the other kind with a curved opening that seems to help with, well, aiming to the correct area... but once got used to this (and learned to point upward instead of downward... facepalm), these bottles work quite well!

Exactly what I got in the hospital after a brutal hysterectomy. Great for peri-care, great price point, and multi-use. These can also be used for wound-care, and sinus flushing in a pinch (discovered after nose surgery). Definitely recommend. Love that they come in a multi-pack, and at such a good price-point.

Awesome deal for post-party care. Now I can put one in each washroom of the house and not have to worry about running to the one with the lone bottle in it! And at night I plan to fill all 3 with warm salty water for night time pee breaks without having to worry about refilling the bottle for next time.
